The "Wizard of Wiseland," the musical show which held the boards at the local opera house last evening, was well attended and thoroughly enjoyed by a large audience. While not so large as some shows of the kind that have shown in Barre, it was snappy from start to finish and the musical numbers were good. The work of Nat Phillips as "The Goldenberg" kept the audience in a roar of laughter most of the time he was on the stage.

The old part of the hospital is being thoroughly renovated, and stand pipes, with hose attached, have been installed, reaching every floor. There are 14 nurses and four have graduated during the year. February 1, 1909, there were 23 patients in the hospital, and since that time there have been admitted 367. Three hundred and eighty-two have been treated there, with 230 operations, and there have been nine deaths, following such operations. In all, there have been 14 deaths at the institution, and 39 births.

ON DUTY BENT.

State Highway Commissioner Gates Out on State Work.

Burlington, Feb. 16.—C. W. Gates of Franklin was in the city yesterday, en route from his home to Brandon, where he will attend a conference with the road officials of Rutland county and discuss plans for the spring work. He will visit all of the counties for a similar purpose in a short time. He said that no definite plans had as yet been made for Chittenden county but that work all over the state would commence about the middle of March.

In speaking of the article, recently published in a Boston paper, announcing his candidacy for governorship, Mr. Gates said that he had not yet been able to discover its authorship. Previous to this, he said that he had written letters to his friends, who were trying to induce him to become a candidate, giving them the reasons why he could not comply with their wishes.

At one time, he admitted, he had conferred with some of those identified with him in the road work and asked their advice as to whether or not he should become a candidate. Their unanimous opinion was that he could not be spared from the work this spring and as he felt his first duty was to finish the work begun by him, he decided to remain in his present position.
